DIRIGIBLE HALF WAY ACROSS

By Associated Press.
LONDON, July 3.—The British dirigible had reached a point approximately half way to New Foundland today. The British warship Thetis, stationed in mid-Atlantic, reported that the barometer was steady and the wind blowing about four miles an hour from the northwest. The sky was clear and visibility good. The air mailer announced that he expected the dirigible would reach St. John's Friday morning and Long Island early Saturday.

ST. JOHN'S, New Foundland, July 3.—The wireless station reported that it heard signals from the British dirigible last night, that all was well and the airship continuing seaward. Her position was not reported.

At midnight the dirigible was approximately 560 miles off the Irish coast.

NO INTEREST IN AERIAL FLIGHT

Lieut. S. Curtis will make one flight tomorrow morning, starting from Lake and traversing the city before landing below the cemetery where the ground is reasonably safe. The time of departure from the lake will be 8 o'clock when the whistles will announce his coming.

Lieutenant Curtis is greatly disappointed at the way he has been treated in Tonopah which has manifested scarcely any interest in the proceedings connected with the flight, indicating that the people here are not concerned in whether the air service of the government is extended to this camp or not. Arriving here the aviator and his assistant received no attention and were left completely to their own devices. When it came to removing the airplane to the place where it was to be assembled not a single citizen volunteered the use of his car or offered to aid in conveying any knowledge of the country or conditions. In fact one citizen who was requested to lend his auto replied that he would not do so for $1000.

Contrasting his treatment here with that accorded him in eight other states where he has appeared in the government service, Lieutenant Curtis said the smallest town of the bunch which was Oberlin, Ohio, almost the entire population turned out and thirty-six cars were offered him free of charge the moment he landed. In Tonopah cars had to be hired and paid for. The officer feels his treatment keenly since he gave up the only holiday at his disposal since 1916 to come to Tonopah. He had arranged to spend a few days with his wife at Tahoe and had been given leave of absence for the time.

Lieutenant Curtis made his first appearance in the thin air of this chief engineer for the Wingfield companies, J. Grant Crumley, who is associated with Wingfield and Brougher in several of their companies; George A. Gerry, biologist for the Belmont and other interests; Andrew Walt, engineer for the Sherwood-Aldrich and Hayden-Stone in Great; and E. J. Roberts, consultant for the Belmont, Verdi and Revere companies. The party made a complete circuit of the district, visiting the old and new properties with keen eyes and critical observation, returning to the city at a noon in time for Wingfield and Brougher to attend half a dozen meetings before leaving at 7:10 for Reno.

At the conclusion of the inspection it was stated officially that last Sunday under the shaft employed on the Tonopah Divide cut the vein on the 500-foot level at a distance of 125 feet from the shaft, disclosing the formation to be identical with what was found on the upper levels. There was no change in values or oxidation. A drift has been started to the southeast on the north side of the hanging wall which was where they caught it on the first crosscut on the fourth level the company is about 100 feet to the southeast where they are getting into the ore known as the big ledge or ore shown coming down from the second level where the face is out 275 feet from the crosscut with values ranging from $75 to $150. On the third level a raise was sent up through the ledge where connection was made with the drift. The raise was in uniformly good ore 90 to the second level.

On the Brougher 175-foot level the company is driving to get to the junction of the main Tonopah Divide vein and the Divide Extension vein which should not exceed a distance of 100 feet as the strike of the Tonopah Divide vein is north 42 degrees west and the strike of the Divide Extension is south 29 degrees west. On the Victory, the shaft is down 100 feet. The sinking is going on a little south of the main Tonopah Divide vein and east of a north and south vein with an easterly dip so that the hole should be close to the intersection at a depth of 150 feet where it may be deemed expedient to start a lateral. The north and south vein of the Victory has yielded assays of $75 on the surface.

The High Divide is 130 feet down. In sinking some stringers have been cut with mineralized areas interspersed with low values. This shaft will be sent to the 300-foot point before lateral work is done. The hole is going down at the rate of five feet a day.

PARIS, (Wednesday), July 3.—The foreign office today made public agreements between France and the United States and France and Great Britain. The agreement with the United States cites articles in the treaty prohibiting Germany from fortifying either the right or left bank of the Rhine, or assembling forces within 30 miles east of the Rhine and provides, in case these provisions do not assure France proper security, the United States is bound to come immediately to the aid of France if any unprovoked act of aggression is made against her by Germany.

It is provided that the treaty shall be submitted to the council of the league of nations which shall decide whether to recognize it as an engagement in conformity with the league covenant. It also provides that the treaty shall be submitted to the United States senate and French parliament for approval. The agreement between Great Britain and France corresponds with that between the United States and France, with the additional provision that the treaty imposes no obligation upon any of the dominions of the British empire unless and until it has been approved by the parliament of each dominion interested.

BUTTE DIVIDE SELLS 20 CENTS

Butte Divide was bid eagerly on the Tonopah curb today at 20 cents and brokers report transactions covering between 20,000 and 30,000 shares, although the latter estimate is said to be exaggerated as not much of the stock is held locally and the holders are not offering any for sale. The activity is credited to a surface strike which carries values as high as $100 for selected samples from a 50-foot ledge with $17.90 from a cold-blooded sampling of four feet. The company has a good plant installed and is independent of popular favors as the big interest is held by San Francisco bankers whose names have been kept in the background. In New York the highest quotations today were Belcher, 76; Tonopah Divide, $9.12; Brougher, $1.92 and $2; Divide Extension, $3.37 and $3.50; Gold Zone, 82.

Official reports of the Villa Abamada battle of June 21 gave the federal losses as fourteen killed and twelve wounded. General Diegues is preparing to take the field in command of his troops. The American expedition after Villa caused no excitement here. American gold and silver is accepted at par and bank notes of American issue are almost at par.

ALL READY FOR THE BIG FIGHT

By Associated Press.
TOLKIDNO, July 3.—Betting on the Wlad-Dempsey fight is surprisingly light. Dempsey backers who have been offering even money are now asking the Willard men to lay out to eight.

In clinches the men may box and protect themselves until the referee orders them to break. At the command both must step back without hitting in the breakaway. All other respects the same rules will govern as prevailed in past heavyweight contests.
